This class will focus on how sound directly effects the mind and body through vibrational energy. The class will begin with a presentation of the science of the five star geometric pattern and its importance in neural network repatterning and energy medicine. We will learn to evaluate five star body geometry through visual assessment and special wave palpation skills. Next we will learn how to vibrationally align the body to the five star pattern through special osteophonic (otto) tuning forks. Special emphasis will be given to tuning vagal nerve tuning through a special tuning fork protocol developed by Dr. Beaulieu. Andreas Ledermann will present osteophonic tuning forks and expand the protocol into specific polarity energy circuits based on five star geometry.

Dr. JOHN BEAULIEU, N.D., Ph.D. is a composer, musician, counselor, and naturopathic physician exploring multiple mediums of creative expression as part of his exploration of consciousness for healing and greater spiritual understandings. His work ranges from the development of tuning forks as musical instruments tuned to precise mathematical formulas based on molecular research to intuitive sonic systems.

Andreas Ledermann his wife Brigitta Raimann are the co-directors of the School for Holistic Naturopathy in Zug Switzerland. Andreas is certified in polarity therapy, craniosacral therapy and process orientated psychology, and has been teaching and practicing for thirty five years. He is an expert in sound healing and energy medicine integration with tuning forks.

The opportunity to have and learn from Andreas Ledermann and Brigitta Raimann is special. We have worked together in Switzerland for over thirty years and I am very excited that they can be with us in America. They will bring a special Swiss energy and maybe if we are lucky some Swiss chocolate. --- Dr. John Beaulieu
